When a page on commons.lbl.gov shows the text "Viewable by the world" in the upper-right corner, that means that anyone on the internet can view the content of that page. They do not need to be logged in to this site in order to see it.